Sophos Support provides a variety of plans to meet your organization's needs

At Sophos, we build products that are simple yet comprehensive—we take the same approach with our support. With options that range from basic technical support to those that include direct access to senior support engineers and customized delivery, Sophos has a plan to fit your organization's needs.

We take a personalized approach to support—meaning you can choose the package and options that are right for you. You'll get help when installing, configuring and upgrading our products and resolving any technical issues.

Personalized support designed for customers and partners with critical needs

Choose our Enhanced Plus or TAM Support plan and you'll gain a number of other benefits as well. Additional features include direct access to senior technical resources, up to 8 hours of remote consulting, and a dedicated technical account manager to address any issues quickly and help prevent any potential problems from happening.

Protecting your investment with advanced RMA and extended warranty

Your warranty on our hardware appliances will be extended as long as you are continuously active on your support plan. We also offer advanced RMA replacement for all support plan holders.

Ensure your business operates at peak performance

A Technical Account Manager (TAM) is the right choice for those looking for proactive help. Your TAM will have a comprehensive understanding of your environment and needs to solve problems quickly, can assist you with the coordination of all aspects of your Sophos support, and give you important advice that will prevent problems from happening.

Best-in-class support for Sophos partners

All Sophos partners have access to Enhanced support at no cost. VIP Access and TAM like services are available to some qualifying partners. Partners can also purchase additional services like Enhanced Plus or TAM to meet their business needs.
